

problem, thanks to the folks at 4 Sea Sucker. Its unique, vacuum-design mounts will hold virtually anything, anywhere on your boat without the need for drills, holes or screws. (Mounts start at $4.99; seasucker.com.)

Last but not least, you might need something in which to carry your gear. If you're looking for a dry bag to protect a spare set of clothes, a camera or your hoagie from the elements, take a look at 4 Seattle Sports Company's Hydralight Zip-Away Duffel Dry Bag ($34.95; seattlesportsco.com). Although the Hydralight looks small when folded up and stored within itself, it unzips into a cavernous bag with 3,500 cubic inches of dry storage.

Another offering sure to be a hit with anglers is 5 Aftco's new Captain's Bag ($89.00; aftco.com). Made from rugged 300-denier Cordura, it features a molded waterproof bottom and 11 waterproof compartments, giving you more than enough room to store binoculars, hand-held VHF or GPS units, sat phones and more. The main compartment also has room for reels, line and other gear. This bag would make a perfect carry-on or checked-luggage piece on your next trip.

Check out your local retailer or go online and start the hunt — there are plenty of options out there. But keep one thing in mind: They're all designed to help you catch more fish. ~
